About NCCHPS

The Northern California Chapter of the Health Physics Society (NCCHPS) is a widely recognized, non-profit professional organization of more than 200 members dedicated to the development, dissemination and application of scientific and practical means for radiation protection. The NCCHPS is a tax-exempt, educational organization which supports the safe use of radiation in research, medicine and industry. Our membership draws from professionals involved in research, industrial, medical and commercial applications of radiation in the greater Northern California area. Our Affiliate members represent NCCHPS sponsors from the manufacturers of radiation protection instrumentation and providers of radiation safety services. The chapter is affiliated with the national Health Physics Society of more than 6,000 specialists in radiation safety.

Activities

The chapter sponsors educational opportunities for the local community and for students. It also established and continues to fund the Burton J. Moyer Graduate Fellowship, publishes a newsletter and membership directory and provides information on the potential risks of radiation relative to the benefits. The NCCHPS holds 5 professional dinner meetings each year with invited speakers. The NCCHPS also maintains a web site that provides information about the meetings, membership, affiliate members and their business, committees, newsletters, Moyer Fund and other sponsored activities. The NCCHPS web site provides links to the national Health Physics Society and our Affiliate members web sites.

About the NCCHPS meetings

The dinner meetings average 40-80 health physicists and radiation safety experts from the public, private and university sectors from the Northern California area who are involved in all facets of radiation protection. The dinner meetings are usually held in September, November, January, March and May each year in a banquet room of various Bay Area restaurants. The speakers at these dinner meetings represent most recognized names in radiation protection in Northern California. The typical meeting schedule is

- 6 – 7 pm – social hour, meeting colleagues, friends and sales representatives
- 7 – 8 pm – dinner
- 8 – 9 pm – presentation

Up to two Affiliate members may sponsor a particular dinner meeting (only $250), have more one-on-one time with NCCHPS members and exhibit their products and services. Some of our meetings are joint dinner meetings with the Northern California sections of the American Nuclear Society (ANS), the Medical Physicists (AAPM) and American Industrial Hygiene Association (AIHA).

Vendor's Night – exhibition features

A special event is the May meeting which is dedicated to manufacturers of radiation protection instrumentation and providers of radiation safety services. Our Affiliate members have the opportunity to exhibit their products and services and to meet the decision makers in the field. During the social hour the meeting attendees have the opportunity to get acquainted with the latest products of the Vendors and to discuss their needs. Each Vendor has an opportunity to present his or her products. A Vendor-sponsored raffle contributes to the success of the event. Exhibiting at the Vendor's night is a cost effective way to make sales calls and introduce your company and your products to the people who are most likely to need them.
